Testers,

The initial release of The Wright Stuff is attached. This Writing Guide is intended as an aid to help Flight Testers involved in the planning for, conduct of, and reporting of results for flight tests conducted under the Type Certification process. This guide is meant as an aid and does not replace any advisory circular or any official FAA policy documents. This guide was initially authored by former FAA FTP Bob Stoney and was inspired by the USNTPS "The Write Stuff" writing guide.

This document will eventually be released to the public as part of a broader Capacity Improvement initiative (along with an improved Cert Process Guide). The ultimate goal is to improve applicant first-pass submissions and reduce the number of revisions to certification documents.

Note: Figure 1-3 is a refinement of the concurrent testing / TIA diagram that I presented at the Safety Standdown in Ft Worth this year (that some of you have asked for).

Please review as you have time and feel free to provide comments. We can discuss as a group at the next Crosstalk on 17 June.

Thanks.
